Polls To Open At 8 Saturday

Polls will open at 8 a.m. Saturday for the long-awaited statewide primary elections. Milam County will hold both Democratic and Republican primaries.

Democrats in Cameron living in Precinct 1 will vote at the courthouse, while Precinct 2 residents will vote in the Yoe High Homemaking Building.

Polling places for Republican voters will be in the Ben Milam cafeteria.

Some 9,261 voters have registered in the county, and election officials expect about 90 percent of those to vote in the elections.

The Republican ballot lists only ten candidates, while the Democratic ballot has 80 names listed, including candidates, for federal, state, and county offices.

Both ballots carry referendums on school busing, and the Republican ballot has one on Daylight Savings Time.

All Milam County Demo precincts will hold precinct meetings on Saturday with the rural boxes holding meetings at 2:30 p.m. and the Cameron and Rockdale precincts meeting a 7:30 p.m., according to C. R. Law, Milam County Democratic Chairman.

About 90 persons had cast absentee ballots by Tuesday. The absentee voting period ended at 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Lone Star Gas Seeks Rate Increase

Lone Star Gas Co. is asking the city for another rate increase, the second in two years. The request is for a 9.63 percent increase. A 19.58 increase was granted the company in February of 1970.

City Council at its regular meeting Tuesday night heard the request from E. L. Edwards, local manager of Lone Star. Mayor Gene Blake suggested a special council meeting be held to discuss the proposal before the May 16 council meeting.

In other business council moved to take bids on new equipment for the volunteer firemen. Request for the boots, coats and pants was made by Fire Chief Carl Black.

The mayor suggested that the fire department hold a fish fry or other fund raising event to raise money for needed items, as the city budget for this year and no funds for new equipment.

Blake signed a proclamation setting May 13 as Firemen's Service Recognition Day.

Bernay Dusek of the Lions Club and a city committee on park improvement, presented a report from the committee on proposed improvements to Wilson Ledbetter Park. The committee needs approval of park plans, which have been worked out by Texas Parks and Wildlife before making application for a grant from the Bureau of Recreation.

The grant would match funds pledged by the civic club and the city of Cameron, which has promised $3000. The Lions Club is pledging $4000. Dusek said the club would like the city to add $1000 to its pledge.

The council offered to study the report prepared by Parks and Wildlife before committing more funds for the project.

Ed Bigbee, city code inspector, showed councilmen photos showing how much cleaning up the city needs to do to improve its appearance.

He noted that ordinances have been passed governing such examples of "environmental pollution" and said the codes need to be enforced. He also explained the code regulation about roof signs on businesses.

During a long discussion of street work, the mayor proposed that the city buy a tank car for oil to be used in surfacing gravel streets. He explained the process and said the treatment would last several years, cutting down on maintenance. "Streets are the city's biggest problem," he added.

Council also approved a request from Police Chief Felipe Martinez for new blankets and mattresses for the city jail.

I'm a funny guy. One whose approval is most important may be the one who disagrees vehemently at times.

It is the sincerity of the disagreement as well as the reasons which counts and which tells so much about the person of different view.

One columnist recently noted a definition of civilization, to paraphrase: "A suspicion that the other person may be right."

Lesser motives are absent in honest differences. And this absence is basis for a stronger unity than in different agreement on some basics. Why are some remembered and others not, from generation to generation? You can answer that; we can answer that.

Some go beyond their own experience; they rise to some new plateau; they reach.

Isn't that a definition of real value? I hope so.

113-113-113
TO THE CHOSEN ONE...

On, they'll laugh if you are small and most of them are large; or when they are small and you are tall.

They'll criticize when you are good and they are poor; or they'll heckle when you are poor and they are good.

They'll condemn if you excel; they'll boo if you fail; that is, unless they are like you.

They, the majority, changing all the time, will find the exception different and isolate him; but they forget, they somehow are different and will know how most others find them when they are one, instead of the many.

They'll be wise to remember that sooner or later, they as one will stand undefended and will absorb what earlier they dished out.

It comes to that sooner or later for the group leader or the individual standing alone.

Final Signup For Baseball

Final signup for summer baseball will be held Thursday, May 4 (today) at the Little League Field at 8 p.m. for minor league, little league and pony league.

All boys interested in playing baseball must sign up at this time or they will not be able to play this year.

All managers and prospective managers are requested to meet at the ballfield at 8 p.m.

Suits Talked In Campaign Closing Days

Rep. Dan Kubiak, of Rockdale, announced plans Tuesday to delay a suit against campaign co-chairman for Rep. Charles Patterson, according to a UPI story datelined Rockdale, published Wednesday in the Waco News-Tribune.

Rep. Patterson had released a statement Tuesday that he was planning a lawsuit against Rep. Kubiak in response to a weekend announcement that Rep. Kubiak was considering a defamation lawsuit against four Southwestern University professors and two campaign co-chairmen of Rep. Patterson.

The professors had released an evaluation of the two candidates for the House seat in new District 36.

The Waco News-Tribune said Wednesday that Rep. Kubiak had dropped plans to sue the four professors since a correction had been published in Williamson County which Rep. Kubiak said met his satisfaction.

The correction noted that Rep. Kubiak's net worth as of March 1, 1971 as filed with the Secretary of State was $95,700 instead of a net worth figure of "more than $150,000" used in the evaluation.

Rep. Kubiak said Wednesday he "expects to read a retraction from the co-chairmen, Leon Bohls and Charles Forbes," according to the News-Tribune.

Rep. Patterson said in part in a statement prior to Rep. Kubiak's announced delay that "we (Rep. Patterson) are filing a suit against Mr. Kubiak for his libelous charges against me and his malicious accusations."

Both candidates are seeking election to the House seat in the new District 36, which encompasses Williamson, Milam and Falls Counties.

No additional comment following Rep. Kubiak's announcement was made at presstime by Rep. Patterson.

Sam Knight Wins Quarterback Trophy

Sam Knight was named football player of the year and Emily Lewis was named football sweetheart at the Yoe All Sports Banquet held Monday night.

The awards were made during the evening when all Yoe High athletes were honored by fellow athletes, parents, and friends.

Guest speaker was Rep. Dan Kubiak, who was introduced by Coach Hal Stanislaw. Rev. Jim Lafferty was master of ceremonies.

Rev. Alvis Coleman presented the Quarterback Trophy to Knight, and also named Stewart Perkins Booster of the Year. Perkins was presented a plaque from the Booster Club. Coleman also introduced James Hudson, new Booster Club president.

Stanislaw presented the coaches, managers, cheerleaders and mascot for the Yoemen.

Introduction of players in football, basketball, volleyball, golf, track, baseball and tennis was by coaches Ernie Laurence, Price Minter, Ron Murdock, and Mrs. Pat Short and Jack Chubb.

Presentation of the football sweetheart was by Yoe tri-captains Prentiss McGoldrick, Sam Knight, and Jim Bailey.

Weather Notes

Heavy winds accompanying 2.69 inches of rain Monday night temporarily flooded some streets and lawns, disrupted service to an estimated 200 telephones and broke power lines on Cleveland Street and on 8th Street.

On the plus side, the rain coupled with a heavy shower Monday afternoon added 3.31 inches of badly needed moisture for spring crops and filled stock tanks for the first time this year.

Official city temperatures for the past week were:

Total rainfall recorded in April was 2.28 inches.

Building Permits Total $260,650

Building permits for the first four months of 1972 soared to a total of $260,650, with new homes topping the list of permits issued in the city.

Permits issued for new homes totaled $165,350.

Permits for new buildings totaled $68,500, including a $65,000 building for the new Irving's Department Store, now under construction downtown.

Permits for repairs and enlargement to existing buildings totaled $16,800, and a rehabilitation permit for $10,000 also added to the total.

PTA TO MEET

The Cameron PTA will meet Thursday (tonight) at 7:30 p.m. in the Ben Milam Cafeteria for the installation of new officers for the 1972-73 school year. Everyone is invited to attend.

Kubiak said. "The charter has been dormant and there is no lien against me for non-payment of franchise taxes."

Kubiak released to The Herald a copy of a "Partial Release of Franchise Tax Lien" filed by Wayne B. Wieser, County Clerk on March 15.

The release says: "Now, therefore, the State of Texas, acting by and through the undersigned, does by these presents release and discharge the said: Dan Kubiak, individually of and from the said State Tax Lien, while maintaining and continuing in full force and effect its preferred lien against: K&B Developers, Inc., pursuant to the aforementioned Notice of State Tax Lien, filed and recorded as stated above."

Kubiak Reports Net Worth

Rep. Dan Kubiak said that as of April 23, 1972, the net worth of his wife and himself was $43,500, "which represents 18 years of toil and labor as a teacher, rancher, businessman and legislator."

The statement was made to the Austin American Sunday, April 30.

In response to Rep. Charles Patterson's charge that Kubiak had "failed to pay a franchise tax on his company," K&B Developers, Inc. and that the State of Texas filed a lien against him for this, Kubiak said he and his wife and two other men applied for charter in June of 1969, "and Mr. Leeman Bounds, the president of the proposed corporation, died of a heart attack one month later."

"The corporation was never organized and no business was ever transacted,"

MOD WALKERS - A crowd of about 90 or 100 high school and junior high students lined up Saturday to walk to Minerva for the March of Dimes. The whole bunch made the distance, meeting Rockdale school students on a similar walk at Minerva.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

As everybody knows, the best spot on television to advertise a headache remedy is about two-thirds way through the evening's newscast. By that time the demand for it naturally sky-rockets.

In this connection, the Federal Communications Commission doesn't object to pushing the sale of headache remedies right at the time when anybody who is paying attention to the news needs them the most, but it does object to one company's claiming its remedy is stronger or better than another when tests indicate they're all about the same.

Therefore it is considering adopting a rule forbidding the practice, and is even considering requiring the companies to spend 25 per cent of their advertising budget over the past two years to correct all claims of superiority.

I guess this is all right, but I hope the Commission doesn't go any further.

For example, you don't suppose it's considering a rule forbidding one candidate from claiming his remedies for the nation's ills are stronger and better than another's? It isn't going to stop a candidate's saying if you'll take two of his remedies that are fast, fast, fast you'll feel better immediately and greet inflation with a smile? He can't say, take two planks from my platform at bedtime and sleep, sleep, sleep? He can't ask you to vote for him and end that nagging tax ache? He can't say his timed-released policies will get you through the next four years faster than anybody else's and you'll wake up feeling great?

The Commission had better think about this. It's fixing to take all the fun out of politics.

However, it has its bright side. If a candidate after spending a million dollars on television trying to get elected is then required to spend 25 per cent of that correcting all his exaggerated claims, it'd then be the television advertising manager's turn to smile. One man's poison is another man's meat, although if too much preservative is added it comes out the same.

By Bill Boykin Texas Press Association

An estimated 1.85 million Texas Democrats are about to decide one of the most significant primary elections in years.

Another 100,000 or more will vote in the Republican primary Saturday (May 6).

Both parties will also conduct important precinct conventions May 6 -- first step in the presidential nominations process. With emphasis on the hard-fought gubernatorial primaries in both parties, little attention has been devoted to the conventions beyond a prolonged Democratic scrap over adoption of new procedural rules.

Democrats almost certainly will go into June 3 runoffs for both governor and lieutenant governor -- and perhaps other statewide elections.

Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde and State Rep. Frances (Sissy) Farenthold of Corpus Christi are major contenders for the Democratic gubernatorial runoff spots.

The lieutenant governor's field is also closely bunched in the stretch drive with State Sens. Wayne Connally of Floresville, Ralph Hall of Rockwall and Joe Christie of El Paso and Houston newspaper executive William P. Hobby the top contenders.

Former Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough is favored to win the Democratic U. S. Senate nomination over Barefoot Sanders and face GOP Sen. John Tower in November.

Republican gubernatorial candidates staging serious campaigns include State Sen. Henry Grover of Houston, Dave Reagan of Sherman, Al Fay of Houston and Tom McElroy of Dallas. John A. Hall of Weatherford has also put up a fight.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin is challenged for reelection by John Hill of Houston, and Comptroller Robert S. Calvert and Treasurer Jesse James have multiple opposition.

A minimum of 58 -- maybe as many as 80 -- new state representatives will be elected and at least 11 new state senators.

Political polls were taken at two regional newspaper meetings last week -- at the South Texas Press Association meeting in Kerrville and the Panhandle Press Association meeting in Amarillo. These are the final polls before the Primary, May 6.

South Texas editors were asked who "would carry their counties" -- and for "whom will they vote." Results were (I believe the following will carry my county in the primary): Governor's race: Briscoe, 14; Farenthold, 14; Barnes, 7, and Smith 5 (Democratic). Fay, 12; Grover, 3 (Republican).

U. S. Senate: Yarborough, 24 and Sanders, 5.

LET'S PUT A BRAKE ON RUMORS

Despite the tall tales put out by Rep. Patterson's opponent, Mr. Patterson voted against the unfair trailer brake law. The official vote record in the House Journal proves that (Page 1852, April 15, 1971, House Journal).

However, Representative Patterson has not advised farmers to violate this law as his opponent is doing. If involved in an accident while in violation of this law, you'd have a poor defense if someone sued you for all you're worth. No lawmaker can "fix it" for you in that situation, and no legislator should be so irresponsible as to tell you that he can.

A bill by Representatives Patterson and Clayton will work to completely revise the controversial brakes and lights provision at the next session of the legislature in June.

With the brake law confusion cleared up, please remember this.....

.....Mr. Patterson's opponent voted FOR and Mr. Patterson voted AGAINST permitting secret union organizers organizing farm workers to operate in Texas (House Bill 790, House Journal, April 28, 1971).

.....Mr. Patterson's opponent voted FOR and Mr. Patterson voted AGAINST, the crippling minimum wage requirement placed on farmers, ranchers, and small businesses.

Representative Charles Patterson spoke for the interests of this district when he cast those votes.

Will Apathy Win?

Move over apathy and let some voters through.

Your Herald offers candidate information in this edition, its fifth Candidate Section in 14 years.

Somebody said earlier in the week this is the largest Texas primary election for both parties in Texas history. And from the looks of the Democratic Primary ballot, it is in Milam County, through the precinct level.

The Milam Republican Primary ballot has only ten names on it, several contestants for governor and lieutenant-governor nomination.

Point is the Sharpstown scandals, the Gus Mutscher et al convictions have brought out a deluge of candidates throughout the Texas political structure.

However it comes out, a viable two-party system is developing in most parts of Texas, particularly in metro, vote-heavy areas. Some candidates are campaigning on this issue: that the Democrats would become truly the more liberal political instrument here and the Republicans would become the more conservative.

Should this happen, say by 1974, another political phenomenon will occur, which is already occurring, again, in the metro areas. A notable percentage of the Texas electorate is going to vote independent of party. The pattern nationally is somewhere between 35 to 40 per cent in national elections. This year, it may go higher because of the candidate blitz going on in the Democratic Party.

So your Herald is offering some information on candidates of both parties in a substantially one-party area of the state, now changing due to both farm and industrial economics.

In seeking the voting records of candidates for the new Representative District 36, we have learned from the Clerk of the House that record votes are available only in the House Journals, the extraction of which is a logistical problem at this time. No computer. Both candidates have referred to their voting records on key issues, which is what we were hoping for. Some 1,500 to 1,800 votes were taken, it is likely, and condensing them to meaningful pattern for either man would have been subject to misinterpretation.

Rains Change Ag Picture

By Bill McCutchen

The recent rain was just what farmers and ranchers ordered. Rains last weekend have completely changed the agricultural complexion in Milam County and was just in time to stop cattle movement and rescue wilting grain sorghum and scorched pastures.

Rain was heavy enough in many areas to wash off and drown much of the corn leaf aphid and greenbug buildups as an added bonus.

WIREWORM DAMAGE

Many of the disappointing stands of corn and grain sorghum this year can be attributed to wire worm damage. Wire worms are with us every year in many areas but damage has been held in check by seed treatments with Dieldrin and other persistent pesticides. Pesticides that seed companies were allowed to use this year just won't handle these soil insects. This is not the fault of the companies as they have to live with regulations also.

Several farmers in various areas of the county have expressed concern over usage of 2,4-D. Cotton and other susceptible crops are up and spraying of hormone type herbicides should be discontinued in areas where susceptible crops such as cotton, gardens, and truck crops are grown.

Milam County is a regulated county in so far as hormone type herbicides are concerned.

COTTON SPRAYING

Early season insect control will be getting underway soon. Wilburn Beckhusen, crops committee chairman says that the usual procedure in the Buckholts area is to spray when forms are noticeably visible and follow with a second application seven days later. Further control is based on visual observation and as a needed basis.

Moderate thrip populations have been noted in every area of the county with producers reporting some flea-hopper activity.

FLOWERS AVAILABLE

Buckholts greenhouse tomato grower, Forrest Green, has branched out to a new product - flowers - and has been doing quite well with quantity and quality.

He has been growing crysanthemums in several houses for the past several months and is in the business now in a big way.

Forrest said, that the will be taking orders for the upcoming Mothers Day observation on May 14th and I understand that delivery is available.

MAN, THAT'S CORN!

OUTSTANDING FARMER - Joe Glaser, shown with Mrs. Glaser at their Buckholts home, was named the Environmental Improvement Individual of the year by the directors of the Central Texas Soil and Water Conservation District. Glaser's farms are models of using land to its fullest potential with little or no pollution to the environment. His farms include cattle, hogs, dogs, catfish, and laying hens.

ASCS NEWS

Pointing out that many farmers experienced problems last fall in finding storage facilities for grain, a local farm program official suggested that use of the farm facility loan program of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (SCS) can help prevent a repetition this fall.

Five-year-term loans up to $35,000, at a current interest rate of approximately 5 1/2 percent, are available to farmers producing commodities eligible for support. Application should be made at the county office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) which maintains the record for the farm to which the loan application relates.

The loan interest rate in the program was recently lowered to 46 cents per $100 or fraction thereof per month, or approximately 5 1/2 percent annually, a decrease from the previous 6 percent rate. Lower borrowing cost of the Commodity Credit Corporation made it possible to lower the rate.

On-farm storage has several advantages for producers. To begin with, it gives them more flexibility at harvest time. They can save field losses by harvesting when the crop is ready. With on-farm storage, they can stretch the marketing period for their crops, using a support loan to help carry them through. Producers with ample on-farm storage are not completely at the mercy of such events as transportation strikes, boxcar shortages, depressed markets, and scarcity of commercial storage space.

Eligible structures under the program include new grain storage structures. Eligible drying equipment under the facility loan program includes continuous-flow dryers, and new equipment which conditions or facilitates drying by aerating, circulating, or stirring the commodity.

In general, farmers who produce commodities eligible for support loans, and who need the proposed on-farm storage facility or drying equipment, are eligible for loans. Storage needs are determined on the basis of two years production of the eligible crops.

Complete details about the farm storage and drying equipment loan program are available at the ASCS County Office.

House Urges Indemnity Bill

Passage of legislation designed to indemnify farmers and ranchers for livestock destroyed by coyotes and other predators was urged today by the House Committee on Agriculture.

Under consideration was a bill (H.R. 14163) by Committee Chairman, W. R. (Bob) Poage, D-Tex., authorizing the Secretary of Agriculture to make payments equal of the fair market value of destroyed livestock so long as recently issued Federal regulations banning the use of certain chemical poisons are in force. A similar bill by Representative O. C. Fisher, D-Tex., also was under study.

Witnesses called by the Committee included Roane M. Lacy, Chairman of the Board of Plantation Foods, Inc., Waco Texas, who asked to discuss losses incurred by turkey growers; C. H. DeVaney, former head of the Texas Farm Bureau and now with the Washington staff of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and a spokesman for the National Wool Growers Association and the American National Cattlemen's Association.

Prison Art Show Set

HUNTSVILLE

More than 3,000 works of art submitted by over 75 inmate artists will be on display Friday through Sunday in the 8th annual Texas Department of Corrections Inmate Art Show.

The show will open at 7 p.m. Friday in the Administration Building in Huntsville. Hours will be 7-9 p.m. Friday, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday, and 1-6 p.m. Sunday, show officials said.

The entries will be judged in six divisions and a best-in-show selection will be made from division winners. Dr. Gaddis Geeslin, Sam Houston State University fine arts department chairman, will be assisted in judging by Murray Smither of Dallas and David Addicks of Houston. Smither is owner of an art gallery and Addicks is a noted artist.

All entries will be for sale, and officials said bulk of the works are priced under $15 with good selections in the $1-5 range. The show is open to the public, and no admission will be charged.

May Honor Senior Citizens

Governor Preston Smith has proclaimed May as Senior Citizens Month continuing the 10-year tradition of designating a month to honor older Texans.

"Texas values its senior citizens," he said. "They should be commended and respected for their continuing efforts to build a better society for all citizens."

He said there is a need for greater public awareness of the contributions of older Texans, and also "concern for the problems many face as they grow older."

During May, which is also the national observance of Senior Citizens Month, special activities and programs sponsored by the Governor's Committee on Aging and local committees on aging will be planned for older persons.

Mrs. Carter Clopton, Executive Director of the Governor's Committee on Aging said, "Independent living for the elderly is the theme of Senior Citizen's Month this year."

This is the soil, the good earth without which man could not exist. Suppose we woke up tomorrow to find a concrete world. Flowers would wilt, plants would die, and famine would sweep the land.

God, in His infinitely wise planning, gave us the earth to make use of — to care for. Without this care, the soil and fields become barren.

People are not very different. We need three kinds of care if we are to flourish — physical, mental and spiritual. Unfortunately the last, in many ways the most important, is often most neglected.

The spirit is a great part of you! Nurture it by attending the church of your choice.

YOUR OPINION COUNTS HERE...

The right to vote is one of the many vital freedoms upon which our country was founded. And for almost 200 years, the American people have participated in the political processes of our nation by exercising this right.

This year, for the first time, the privilege to vote has been extended to include a large number of our country's young people. Now, they too, have the opportunity to be heard through the channels of our democratic system.

Our right to vote is a precious freedom that should not be taken for granted. Like every one of our country's freedoms, it must be preserved by each of us to assure that it will remain an American freedom in the years to come.

That's just part of the savings. Gas costs less to operate than electricity. And you get special low rates during the long hot summer months.

But you'll save more than money with gas. You'll save time and energy, too. Because with central gas air conditioning there are fewer moving parts. Fewer breakdowns. Fewer repairs.

This summer, have central gas air conditioning installed. For love's sake.

Marriages may be made in heaven, but it's hard to keep them heavenly when it's hotter than blazes.

That's where central gas air conditioning comes in. It can bring you together. All summer long. As close as you want. All summer long.

And it won't cost you much either. In fact, if you have gas heating in your home, you could easily have half a central air conditioning system already. Because you may be able to use the duct work and furnace blower you already have. That saves about fifty percent on installation costs.

Dr. Wheatley: On Rubella

George M. Wheatley M.D. is a Fellow and Past President of the American Academy of Pediatrics and Vice-President and Chief Medical Director of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Q: What is rubella?

A: Rubella is the medical term for German measles, sometimes called 3-day measles. It is a common and relatively mild virus disease when it occurs in childhood. It should not be confused with the "red" or "8-day measles."

Q: Is rubella dangerous?

A: Yes. When pregnant women get rubella, it becomes a serious matter. The greatest danger is in exposure to rubella within the first few months of pregnancy. Rubella virus can cause babies to be born with defects - cataracts, heart defects, deafness, or mental retardation. Also, pregnancy itself may terminate in stillbirth or miscarriage.

Q: Does rubella occur in epidemics?

A: Yes. Most large outbreaks occur in the United States every 6 to 9 years, although some rubella cases occur every year. The last major epidemic in 1964 was probably the largest in thirty years. About 20,000 infants were born with severe defects and some 30,000 miscarriages and stillbirths resulted from this epidemic.

We may expect another large increase in cases in the early 1970's, unless large-scale immunization takes place

Q: How can we prevent rubella?
A: A new, safe vaccine has been developed. It was first given to children more than three years ago. No illnesses were induced, and the vaccine protected more than 95% of those inoculated. Protection has continued during the three years since the vaccination. Rubella vaccine should be given to all children, both boys and girls, between ages one year and puberty.

Q: Should women be vaccinated?
A: Women of child-bearing age should not be routinely vaccinated because of possible harm to a developing baby. However, if her physician recommends it, a susceptible woman who is not pregnant can be given a simple test to determine whether or not it is necessary for her to receive the vaccine. Widespread vaccination of children, the main source of rubella, will give pregnant women their best protection.

Republicans Set 4 Primary Boxes

Milam County Republicans will hold a primary election on Saturday, May 6, GOP County Chairman J. Estel Johnston has announced.

The Republican Party will have four voting boxes in two locations in Rockdale and Cameron. The polling place in Cameron will be in the Ben Milam School cafeteria. And the polling place for Rockdale will be in the Rockdale High School cafeteria.

North Milam County voters will cast their votes in the Cameron boxes, and residents of the southern part of the county may vote at the Rockdale location. However, since there is no line dividing the county, a Milam citizen may vote at whichever location is more convenient for him.

Polling places will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The Republican ballot for the May 6 primary lists only nine statewide races and one race for the new 18th District.

Heading the ballot is Senator John G. Tower, running unopposed for re-election as United States Senator. Six candidates are listed for Governor; they include Albert Bel Fay, Henry C. (Hank) Grover, John A. Hall, Joseph Alton Jenkins, B. Thomas McElroy and David Reagan.

Maurice Angly, Jr. for State Treasurer and Jim Segrest for Railroad Commissioner are the other two statewide candidates.

Jack Tumlinson of Cameron is the candidate for State Senator in the new 18th District.

The Party offices of County Chairman and Precinct Chairman will be indicated by write-in candidates. Also on the ballot voters will have an opportunity to express their wishes in a referendum on two current issues. They may vote in favor of or against Daylight Saving Time and for or against a constitutional amendment to prohibit school busing of schoolchildren.

Ballots List Queries On Busing, Time

Both Democratic and Republican ballots offer referendums in the May 6 primary election.

The Democratic referendum is on busing, and the GOP ballot referendums are on Daylight Savings Time and busing.

The Democratic referendum reads:

"(For, Against) No public school student shall because of his race, creed, or color, be assigned to or required to attend a particular school. This referendum applies to the required busing of public school students and provides for equal quality of education for all public school students."

The Republican referendum:

"(For, Against) Daylight Saving Time

"(For, Against) Are you in favor of a constitutional amendment which would prohibit forced busing of school children or forced consolidation of school districts solely to achieve racial balance?"

??This referendum is an expression of public opinion only and has no binding effect as a law."

FRANCES "SISSY" FARENTHOLD

Farenthold

Frances Farenthold is a Democratic candidate for Governor. She was born October 2, 1926 at Corpus Christi.

She was educated in the Corpus Christi schools, graduated from Hockaday Preparatory School in 1943, received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Vassar College in 1946 and her Doctor of Jurisprudence from the University of Texas Law School in 1949.

She was first elected to the Texas House of Representatives in 1968, and was re-elected in 1970. She is a member of the Nueces County Bar Association, Texas State Bar Association, and the American Bar Association.

About her campaign, Mrs. Farenthold said: "My campaign is one to turn this State around from social neglect and personal gain by public officials to social progress and honesty. As more and more people join my efforts, we are convinced that after the election we will not stop. We will not slow down our drive for social reform until it is completed. We want more citizen participation, for our faith is in the people and what they can do. No other campaign can make such a claim.

"The following are major areas of the campaign and what I propose to do in these areas:

"Reform - Ethics bill with main item a requirement that State office holders file a copy of their income tax return every year.

"Public school finance - Make sure there is equal financial resources behind every student whether or not the Supreme Courts confirms the Edgewood case.

"Taxation - Stop raising the sales tax and never put food and services under the sales tax. Balance taxes between consumer and business by passing a Corporate Profits tax for new revenues.

BEN BARNES

Barnes

Ben Barnes, now serving as Lt. Governor, is seeking the Democratic nomination for Governor of Texas.

Barnes was born in 1938 in Gorman, Texas and attended Tarleton State University and Texas Christian University before entering the University of Texas, where he studied business administration and later attended the University's school of law.

In 1960 when he was 22, Barnes was elected State Representative for District 64. He was re-elected in 1962 and 1964 without opposition. During his second term in the House, he was named chairman of the Rules Committee.

Barnes became the youngest man in the state's history to be elected Speaker of the House when at 26 he was elected to that office.

In 1968 he was nominated for Lieutenant Governor and became the state's 37th Lieutenant Governor. He was re-elected in 1970.

Barnes was named one of "Five Outstanding Young Texans in 1965" by Texas' Junior Chamber of Commerce. In January, 1970, he was named one of the "Ten Outstanding Young Men in America" by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Barnes is married to the former Mrs. Nancy Sayers, whose husband was an attorney in private practice at the time of his death. She has two sons, ages 19 and 15.

Welfare - Calling the state's welfare program "the biggest mess in the world," Barnes advocates creation of a single administrator or secretary for the state's welfare department who is directly appointed by and accountable to the Governor.

W. J. ROBERTSON

Robertson

William J. Robertson is a Democratic candidate for the office of comptroller of public accounts.

Robertson, 34, was born in Mississippi and attended Channelview and Baytown schools. He received a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from the University of Texas at Austin. He completed his military service through the Air Force Reserve program.

His major campaign platform items are listed:

"I have to come to observe and to minimize the 'expectation reality gap' and I have learned the art of keeping public expectation more reasonable in relation to realities.

"If elected as comptroller, I pledge to oppose a personal income tax and opposition to the removal of the exemptions from sales tax for food, medicine, and farm equipment; to keep competent eligibles by creating a merit system in the Comptroller's office; to administer the funds of Texas to achieve the results that we all desire; a better allocation of total public resources; more responsiveness in public needs for fiscal administration."

VOTE MAY 6

D. BLANKENSHIP

Blankenship

Dallas Blankenship is a Democratic candidate for the office of State Comptroller. He is 49 and a member of the Methodist Church, American Legion, and Veterans of Foreign Wars, IOOF.

Blankenship's qualifications include former county tax assessor - collector of Delta County. He is a former state tax supervisor and a former Internal Revenue agent. He has been an administrator for the U. S. Civil Service for 10 years. He is experienced in taxes at all levels. He attended Cooper High School and East Texas State University.

Blankenship says his platform is to re-organize the audit division so that all the sales taxes and cigarette taxes are collected;

To make it a punishable offense for anyone in the comptrollers department to accept a gift in any amount from a taxpayer;

To rid the department of some of the old people who are already past retirement age;

To hire young energetic people and to aggressively proceed to collect all the taxes due under the laws;

To organize a comprehensive program to keep the State Legislature advised of problems in the field of taxation and their collection as concerns the Comptrollers Department and the Legislature.

VERNON SMITH

V. Smith

Vernon (Gene) Smith is a Democratic candidate for the office of State Comptroller. There is no Republican candidate for this office.

Smith was formerly first assistant to Congressman-at-large Joe Pool of Dallas in Washington, D. C. and in the west Texas area until January, 1964, after managing Pool's campaign in 1962.

Prior to this he was elected to and served four years as District Clerk of Tarrant County. He was twice elected and served as State Legislator from Tarrant County from 1952 to 1956.

A native of Tarrant County, he attended high schools in Fort Worth and El Paso. His university training includes TCU, Texas Wesleyan College, and SMU. Smith is presently completing some advanced courses in business and finance.

"I feel I am qualified by experience and that I can help solve some of our State's monumental problems on taxation, and will be able to serve in January of 1973 and do a good job for the State and the people of Texas," Smith stated.

"Calvert has been in office since the late 1940s and was first appointed State Comptroller by former Gov. Shivers, has held this job for many years, but perhaps at age 80 some feel he should step down in favor of a younger man with the experience and ability to handle this job."

Smith is a disabled veteran of World War II and has been active in past years with several civic and fraternal organizations.

R. PENDLETON

Pendleton

West Texan Randy Pendleton, who spent the past two and a half years as Texas' State-Federal Relations Director in Washington, D. C., resigned that post to enter the race for the office of State Comptroller of Texas.

A Terry County native, he moved with his parents to Lynn County and finally to Andrews where he graduated from high school. He spent two years at Tech and obtained his degree in government and education.

A graduate of Texas Tech University in Lubbock, Pendleton served four terms in the Texas House as representative of District 75. While a member of the House of Representatives, Pendleton served on all major committees and chaired the house rules committee and serves as vice chairman of the State Affairs committee.

"These are trying and uncertain times," Pendleton said. "Times when everyone in state government must be pulling together and giving his or her full time effort to the task. I question whether the incumbent who will be 80 years old and who has been in bad health for some time can meet this challenge."

"Last year Texas got more money from the Federal Government than we got from the sales tax," he said. "My experience the past two and a half years as the director of the State-Federal relations has shown me the great value of knowing these officials and in knowing how to work with them."

VOTE MAY 6

For Comptroller
of Public Accounts

ROBERT CALVERT

Calvert

Incumbent State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert is being challenged by six fellow Democrats. No Republicans are running.

Calvert, 79, has been comptroller 22 years. He was an aerial photographer in World War I and attended Brownwood public schools and Howard Payne College.

He is married and has one daughter. Calvert is a native of McGregor.

Smith

Stanford S. Smith, a 43-year old attorney, lives in San Antonio and is a candidate for comptroller. He is a former state representative.

Smith, who is single, is a military veteran. He received a bachelor's degree at Trinity University and his law degree at St. Mary's School of Law.

JAMES WILSON

Wilson

As a candidate for Comptroller of Public Accounts, James Wilson says his platform is one of reform in the office of comptroller.

Wilson, 42, recently completed nine years service in the office of comptroller. His career spans that of a field auditor, research assistant, statistician, manager of research, and finally Director of Research and Statistics. In the latter capacity, he estimated every tax, license, and fee collected by the State for three years in advance.

He says he is thoroughly familiar with governmental accounting involving some 300 funds. "This has provided me with an insight and understanding of every tax division in the comptroller's office," he added.

In addition, he is the most recent past Research chairman of the National Association of Tax Administrators. He has worked with nearly every state in the union on various taxes and problems of administration, particularly those of which Texas has a common interest.

The issues in his campaign are:

1. Faculty administration in the realm of: tax collection; federal funds; legislative programs.

2. Internal policy regarding: retirement, racial balance, hiring practices, and public information.

"I advocate that the comptroller should be physically able to travel throughout Texas visiting the 23 district offices and 4 regional offices in his department. He should not rely entirely on one individual to inform him of the problems in Texas. Consequently, I believe the office requires the physical stamina of a younger man to cope with the problems of a dynamic economy. After all, it is a $5.6 billion per year operation," he said.

CRAWFORD MARTIN

Martin

Crawford Martin, who has served as Texas Attorney General since 1966, is seeking re-election to that post.

He was born in Hillsboro on March 13, 1916. He attended public schools in his hometown, attended The University of Texas School of Law, and was admitted to the State Bar in 1939. He served in the U. S. Coast Guard during World War II.

He was elected mayor of Hillsboro in 1946 and in 1948 was elected to the Senate seat which had been held by his father. He served in the Senate from 1949 until 1963, when he was appointed Secretary of State by Gov. John Connally, a post to which he was reappointed in 1965.

Martin resigned the Secretary of State office early in 1966 to make his successful bid for the Attorney General's office. He was re-elected Attorney General by an overwhelming margin in 1968, and in May, 1970, defeated his Democratic Party opponent by a margin of 4 to 1, and in the general election in November, 1970, won re-election to a third term by the largest vote of any statewide candidate on the ballot.

As Attorney General, Martin has added three new divisions: the Crime Prevention Division, the Environmental Protection Division to deal with the increasing complexities of pollution problems, and the Anti-Trust and Consumer Protection Division to protect the public from fraudulent and deceptive trade practices.

During his administration, the Attorney General's department has maintained a record of 98 percent cases won out of thousands of lawsuits handled annually.

JOHN HILL

Hill

John L. Hill is a Democratic candidate for Attorney General.

He was born at Breckenridge October 9, 1923. He was admitted to the bar in 1947 and was also admitted to practice before U. S. District Court, Northern, Southern, Eastern and Western Districts of Texas and the U. S. Supreme Court.

He attended Kilgore Junior College and his legal education was received at the University of Texas, where he earned his LL.B. in 1947. He was Texas Secretary of State from 1966 until 1968.

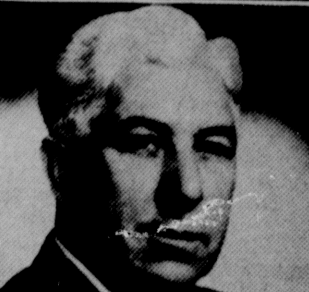

He is married to the former Elizabeth Ann Graham of Young County. Daughter Melinda, an outstanding student at the University of Texas, married Mike Perrin of Cameron, an academic all-American and student leader at the University of Texas. Son, Graham and daughter, Martha, are students at The University of Texas.

On the Sharpstown investigation, John Hill says: "The Attorney General mishandled the Sharpstown affair investigation from the start. He was six months late getting it going. A thorough, forthright investigation right at the beginning would have removed the cloud that hung over the last legislative session, and would have cleared those who were innocent of wrongdoing; and it would have brought quick justice for those who had something to hide. I urged quick action last spring."

On pollution prosecution, Hill says:

"When an Attorney General of an industrial state the size of Texas has never filed suit against a polluter, something is amiss. Clean air and water are just as important to most Texans as physical safety and protection of their property. People who violate our anti-pollution laws should have justice as any other law violator."

Fay, who lives in Houston, has participated in several major facets of the Texas economy. He has business interests in oil and gas, farming and ranching, and manufacturing.

Active in civic affairs, he is president of the Houston Museum of Natural Science and supports the need for more parks and recreational areas. He has been a director of the American Brahman Breeders Association.

He is married to the former Homolais Haden and they have three children. They are Presbyterians.

Fay spent three years on active duty in the U.S. Navy during World War II as commanding officer of a submarine chaser.

Fay, 59, received his Bachelor of Science degree in geology at Yale University in 1936.

Republican Candidates

Your Herald did not receive replies from all Republican Primary Candidates, nor all candidates, unopposed or opposed in the Democratic Primary.

Reagan

Dave Reagan is a Republican candidate for Governor. He is a native of Texas, born in Sherman and reared in Waco. Reagan, 34, is a resident of Sherman.

Reagan received a BA degree in government at the University of Texas in Austin and graduate degrees in government and foreign policy from the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy of Tufts and Harvard Universities.

He is married to the former Ann Granger of Waco and they have two daughters.

Reagan is a member of the Lions Club, chamber of commerce, Sherman Citizens Good Government League, Sherman United Fund, and an active member of the Church of Christ.

"To restore confidence in our state government, we must accomplish political and structural reform -- clean up the corruption and make the government more responsive by updating the Constitution," Reagan said.

JOSEPH JENKINS

Jenkins

Joseph Alton Jenkins is a Republican candidate for Governor.

He was born at Salt Lake City, Utah, January 30, 1919. He graduated from the University of Utah with a BA in economics. He served in the U. S. Navy during World War II and left active duty with the rank of Lt. Commander.

He was admitted to the New York State Bar in 1947. He started his adult political life as a Democrat during the Roosevelt campaign for a third term as president. Later, he became an Eisenhower supporter then switched to the Republican party. At this time he is practicing law in Dallas County.

Listing his major campaign platform, Jenkins said:

"I am opposed to busing school children to achieve racial balance, and have proposed the 'Jenkins' Amendment to the U. S. Constitution which reads: 'No Federal Court shall have the power to order forced busing or consolidation of school districts in order to achieve racial balance in public schools.' If Congress will not give us a chance to vote, I propose to bypass Congress and get this measure before the people.

"We do not need an increase in taxes. An honest and efficient administration of the tax laws we now have would produce more revenue than the state government could possibly need. It should be possible, in many instances, to reduce taxes.

"Constitutional revision - I will campaign for better law and government through updating the Texas Constitution.

Strict enforcement of the Texas Open Meetings Law, the removal of subterfuges and guises that permit state business to be conducted behind closed doors, with the news media barred.

"Judicial reform - As a lawyer, I am well aware that packed court dockets, delayed trials and the misapplication of justice are the most critical problems facing the future of Texas.

"Welfare reform - I am stressing the need to eliminate larceny among welfare recipients, by converting welfare give-aways into job opportunities.

Public confidence in government - My major concern as Governor of Texas would be the restoration of confidence and the removal of scandal from the operation of state business.

JACK TUMLINSON

Tumlinson

The Honorable Mr. Dan Kubiak
State Representative
Box 272
Rockdale, Texas 76567

Dear Mr. Kubiak:

The purpose of this letter is simply to express a personal word of encouragement to you in these days of opposition and political turmoil. I speak for myself alone, although I feel reasonably certain that you will carry the majority in this precinct.

During the short time I have known you and have worked with you, it has been made quite clear that you have the concern and welfare of your constituents at heart and have conscientiously sought to serve them to the best of your ability.

I may be wrong in this assessment, but I believe that part of the reason why you are experiencing opposition at this time is because you have rendered faithful public service, and so have had to duck some of the powers that be.

It is really disgusting to me that there has to be such mud slinging in this campaign for our district, when men running for higher offices in this State, with actual skeleton-filled closets, seem to be relatively immune from any serious criticism. I really do not understand all I know about this.

Be that as it may, please accept these words from a friend, who has absolutely no political influence, who is not seeking anything except to express his support, and earnest desire that you continue to represent us in this district.

Sincerely,

Ernie E. Braun
Pastor

P. S. I wish I was as certain about the gubernatorial race as I am about this one.

Why Are Food Prices So High?

Here Is the Answer:

TAKEN FROM THE WASHINGTON-STAR, WASHINGTON, D. C., DATED MARCH 13, 1972

Dairy organizations have fed at least $11,500 to the "D. C. Friends of Bob Poage," a fund for the House Agriculture Committee's chairman, Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Texas. His former aide is running it from a downtown law suite.

Poage, who got his $11,500 in just three days from three dairy funds known as TAPE, SPACE and ADEPT. (The same groups came under fire last year for rich donations to hidden committees for President Nixon, made after the government raised milk price supports.) Poage's former top aide, Robert F. O'Neal, said he solicited the dairy money for the D. C. fund set up in his law office. He wouldn't give any total for all contributions. Poage, 72, faces his first serious election threat in 20 years.

"Ethics legislation - We need a new, tough and enforceable ethics bill drafted by a representative committee of Texans. Elected officials have written their own rules for too long."

"Constitutional reform is one of the most important matters before state government. We need to revise our state constitution to include executive authority for the Governor, the reduction and streamlining of state agencies, annual legislative sessions, 4-year legislative terms for statewide officials, and appropriate salary increases. ### White

John C. White, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, is making a bid for reelection to that post. He was 25 years old when he made his first successful race on the Democratic ticket for Texas Commissioner of Agriculture. He has won eleven successive elections over a field of 34 Republican and Democratic candidates.

White, 47, was born on a small tenant farm near Newport in Clay County and attended rural schools, graduating from Iowa Park High School in 1942. A scholarship helped with expenses while working his way through Texas Tech University at Lubbock, where, in 1946, he received a degree in agriculture. He has since done graduate study at Texas A&M University and, prior to his election to state office, was head of the Department of Agriculture at Midwestern University.

The Texas Agricultural Products (TAP) program was inaugurated by him as a major marketing effort to promote the state's $4 billion annual agri-business industry. As a result, Texas-grown food and fiber have become familiar items in Europe, Asia and South America in the past six years.

Other programs improved or made possible by Commissioner White include the Texas Egg Law, the Texas Grain Warehouse Law, voluntary pesticide residue monitoring, the nation's largest seed testing and certification program, and the first environmental services branch of any state department of agriculture.

He has served as a presidential advisor in matters involving international trade and agricultural development. In such capacity he has traveled throughout Europe.

Commissioner White is married to the former Wynelle Watson. The couple live with their children in Austin.

CARL A. BELL

Bell

Carl A. Bell is a Democratic candidate for the office of State Commissioner of Agriculture.

Bell, 43, was born and reared on a farm near Henrietta. He attended Ft. Lewis A&M College in Colorado. He was an enlisted man in the Adjutant General Corps of the Army during the Korean Conflict.

He served in municipal government four years in Colorado, three years as councilman and one year as mayor. He is married and has two sons.

Bell says that "most honest and taxpaying citizens know for sure that now is the time for a change in some of our public officials entrenched with the 'establishment' in Austin. Most of the elected officials are forgetting that they are in office to represent the people not their selfish prospects."

He said he is "running for the office of Commissioner of Agriculture to 'work with' the farmers and ranchers in Texas and not 'against' them. When we help our rural people, we are also helping our city people. Our agriculture industry is the backbone of our great state."

We Believe In Ben Barnes

Ben Barnes has served this state with honor and distinction. We personally know him to be a man of honesty and integrity and we stand proudly behind him without reservation. We deeply resent the attempts at character assassination against him which have marked this campaign and we urge you to reject such tactics resoundingly at the ballot box. Ben Barnes has the qualities of leadership and integrity to make Texas an outstanding governor. Let's give him our overwhelming support on May 6th!
